

FLAT IMPLANT, METHOD FOR ITS MANUFACTURE AND USE IN SURGERY

ABSTRACT

A flat implant with a flexible fabric formed from at least two textile fabric structures constructed substantially independently of one another and firmly interconnected over the entire surface area of the implant so as to form a composite structure, is made available for use in surgery.

009077 12650460